A Historic Walk through Oberlin's Tappan Square

Learn about the earliest residents of Oberlin and hear fascinating stories of the triumphs, debates, and scandals linked to the landmarks around Tappan Square in a special summer offering of the Oberlin Heritage Center's Scholars & Settlers History Walk on Saturday, August 27, at 2 p.m. The 60-minute guided walk offers something for everyone, whether you've lived in Oberlin forever or are new to the area. Engaging stories and the opportunity to compare the buildings of today to those of yesteryear using historic photographs combine to bring about a lively appreciation of Oberlin's unique heritage.

Consider making a day of it in Oberlin and taking part in the Heritage Center's Freedom's Friends Abolition and Underground Railroad History Walk presented the same day at 11 a.m. Hear stories about Oberlin's most famous freedom seekers and people known to have helped them make their way to freedom on this guided walk that starts on the front steps of The First Church in Oberlin, U.C.C. and finishes about four blocks further across downtown Oberlin in the community park honoring Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Advance reservations are needed for each history walk and may be made online at www.oberlinheritagecenter.org or by calling the Heritage Center at (440) 774-1700. Tour fees are $6 per adult, and free to OHC members, children and any college student. Registration is requested even if qualified for a free tour.
