42. Further Description of Important Interior and Exterior Features (Continued on Reverse if Necessary)
This vernacular ranch house has elements of Tudor Revival style, as in its front facing gable, which contains simulated half timbering. The gabled section projects near the right side, and it contains a set of three casement windows. The door, which is located left of the projecting section, appears to be made of solid wood. A pair of casement windows is located immediately left of the door, with two more pair farther to the left. Stone steps and continued...

43. History and Significance (Continue on Reverse if necessary)
This house was built between 1942-56 and the first known occupants were Lea and Harriet E. Goerner (City Directories). Lea Goerner was the son of OC Conservatory Professor F.A. Goerner and graduated from Oberlin High School and Oberlin College. He went on to develop a partnership with Lee J. Rowe for Rowe-Goerner Motor Sales, a garage and automobile sales business and was a charter member of Oberlin’s Rotary Club (O-High Alumni). Lea and Harriet’s son Robert graduated from Oberlin High School in continued...

42. Further Description of Important Interior and Exterior Features (Con't)
a metal rail lead up to the door. To the right of the projecting section are two pairs of casement windows. The casement windows have two horizontal muntins in each. The east and west elevations have two pairs of casement windows below simulated half timbering. At the east elevation, the grade of the driveway descends below street level.

43. History and Significance (Con't)
1948 (O-High). An illness forced Lea to retire in 1954, and he died 9 months later (O-High Alumni). Harriet continued living at the house until 1984 when she moved to a nursing home in Oswego, IL (O-High Alumni).
