This home is a Colonial Revival example of an adapted Foursquare plan with little ornament. The full front porch has a metal, hipped roof and Tuscan supports with a turned spindle work balustrade. Lattice is located below the floor of the porch. Wood steps lead to the central entry, which features a five-panel door, with a window in the upper half of the door. A window is located left of the door, and it is one-over-one. The second story contains continued...

This house first appears in the City Directory in 1894 and lists many different residents including Anna Landis, Mr. & Mrs. Vincent, & Miss Calista Andrews. In 1895, the resident was traveling salesman & farmer Daniel A. Brightman. Daniel lived in this house approx. 5 years with his wife Ellen & children Anna, Alvin & Rachel, & his mother Permilla (City Directory). In 1902, the resident listed was Hiram Latham, however, by 1908 the occupant of the house was Edward Cook & his wife Bertha (City continued...)

A detached, one-car garage with a hipped roof is located behind the house, which shares a driveway with the house to the east. The house, and the others that surround it are in good condition.

42. Further Description of Important Interior and Exterior Features (Con't)

two one-over-one windows. The roof features a gable dormer, which has casement windows that appear to be replacements. The dormer’s exterior is covered in wood shingles, and a band of the slate roof runs between the eaves of the dormer. The roof displays imbricated slate shingles and metal seams. At the east elevation, a gable wall dormer also has a band of slate shingles running between its eaves. A door appears to be located at street level, but it is obscured by foliage. The west elevation contains a projecting bay window with a polygonal slate roof. Three windows are located in the second story, and a hipped dormer exists in the roof.
