This vernacular home has several visible alterations. The front facade features a front-facing gable that projects from the body of the house and has a small, square window in the gable. Below it, the second story also contains one window, while the first story has two casement windows with ten lights in each window. A small porch to the right of the gable has one square support and a door with wood surrounds. A small one-over-one window is continued...

42. Further Description of Important Interior and Exterior Features (Con't)
located above the porch. Another, slightly larger porch with an irregular footprint is located to the left of the front gable. This porch appears to be newer than the house. Below the porch roof, a door with wood surrounds faces the south elevation. However, this porch and the west elevation are difficult to see, as they are obscured by foliage. At the west elevation, an addition with a concrete block foundation is slightly visible. Shingles cover the exterior of the addition. The second story addition at the rear of the house is visible from the east elevation, where it features an attached garage at street level, which faces east.

43. History and Significance (Con't)

from OHS & OC (Holsworth, O-High Alumni). Around 1908, Alexander Edwin Hamilton, an instructor of French at OC, lived with the Cookes (City Directory, Alumni Register). In 1912, Frank bought Cheney & Blue’s photographic stock & became an agent for Eastman Kodak (Oberlin News, Archives). Frank moved his Kodakery, a photographic supplies & finishing agency, to several locations before settling within the Comings Bookstore (Archives, City Directory). Clara was active in the Girl Scouts Council over 30 years, & served as treasurer (Archives). As a Boy Scout, William won a prize for selling Liberty Bonds in 1917 (Oberlin News). William stirred a sensation when he married Sybil Stapleton secretly in the summer of 1923 (Oberlin News). Frances lived at home & worked as a nursery school teacher in 1939 (City Directory, Alumni Register). Frank retired in 1949; he died in 1965 after Clara’s death in 1958 (Archives). By 1970, Lois & John Marshall owned this house; he taught at OHS & they had 3 children (City Directory).
