This Colonial Revival Four over Four house includes a central entry with an entablature that includes dentil molding and Ionic pilasters. The door has six molded wood panels, and two six-over-six windows are situated to the left and right of the door. The second story has smaller six-over-six windows. The east elevation has a first story porch, which is supported by round and square columns, has a hip roof. Double doors lead to the porch and two continued...

John 'Jack' Bernard Annable, who built many other houses in Oberlin, built this house in 1935 for Professor F.G. Tucker (Rice). Jack Annable built this house for $11,673.28 (Rice). Forrest Glenn Tucker was an Oberlin College professor, and later an emeritus professor. He lived here with his wife, Gladys and three children; two of the children were Allen and Benson L, both of whom were students while living in this house (City Directory). Gladys Tucker died in 1967, which may be when Forrest continued...

A detached garages is located behind the house; it accommodates two vehicles.
